

MULTISPORT DREAMING:

THE FOUNDATIONS OF TRIATHLON IN AUSTRALIA

Multisport Dreaming captures a period in time that few remember and documents the foundational years of the sport of triathlon in Australia. It charts the evolution of ITU, Ironman and age group racing and weaves together the individual stories of athletes, administrators, race directors and magazine publishers who helped to make the sport what it is today.

Written by Dr Jane E. Hunt, an Assistant Professor in Australian Studies at Bond University and a triathlon enthusiast with Forewords by Greg Welch, Jackie Fairweather and Craig Alexander, this hardcover book contains more than 300 pages, 300 images, and 200 interviews with legends of the sport. It draws on a large collection of magazines, newsletters and archival material. It is the first book of its kind for the sport of triathlon anywhere in the world.

For more details about the book, project and author visit the web site:

www.multisportdreaming.com

Book Pricing and Delivery for Triathlon Clubs:

Included is a complementary copy of the book for yourself or your club to keep. As you can see, the book would be of interest to many triathletes. To make it easier for your club members to acquire a copy I am offering a Triathlon Club special. The RRP is $54.95. The Special rate for Triathlon Clubs, for purchases of four or more books, is $40 per copy including free delivery. You are then free to sell the books to members at that price, or at a higher rate as a fund raising initiative for the club.

Guest Speaker:

As Australia's leading triathlon historian, and an experienced lecturer and presenter, I have been asked to address a variety of triathlon functions. If you have an upcoming annual event and are looking for a guest speaker, I am happy to deliver an illustrated presentation on aspects of your state or region's triathlon history or share anecdotes and trivia more generally from the sport's past. In return I would seek the opportunity to sell and supply signed copies of the book to your guests at the above discounted rate.

If any of the above options are of interest to your club please contact me at the details below.

Contact Details:

Dr Jane E. Hunt

jhunt@bond.edu.au

0410 307 120